

RACE BIAS ALSO A TARGETAntiwar Groups Set Up Coalition

The formation of the Peace and Freedom Associations, a coalition of local groups dedicated "to ending the war in Vietnam and to ending racial injustice at home," was announced today.

A center for the organization, located at 348-C N. Park Ave., will be under the direction of University of Arizona graduate student John Chesshir.

The new coalition has an advisory council composed of Robert

The center will serve as a communication interchange between local and national peace groups, and will be the focal point of local efforts against the Vietnam war. It will be operated by volunteers and financed by monthly support pledges from individuals, families and organizations.

A list of member organizations includes the UA Student Peace Association, Veterans for Peace, Tucson Committee to End the Vietnam War, Phoenix Committee on Vietnam, Student Faculty Legal Aid, International Study Forum, Negotiation Now, Weekly Vigil for Peace, Individuals Against the Crime of Silence, University Humanists, Draft Resistance and Students for Democratic Society.
